Billing Pointers

- You are charged for the number of active users and the number of integrations.
- The billing date is based on your subscription start date.
- The amount that will be charged is the Total Amount that you see in the Billing and Subscription page.
- Order Time will automatically charge you every month on the date you signed up. You will be billed on the same (or close to the same day) each month.
- When you upgrade your subscription (i.e. increase the number of active users and/or integrations), for example, in the middle of the month, you will be billed with the new rate on the Next charge date plus a prorated amount that is based on the amount of time from when the upgrade took effect less the payment that was already processed.
- If you downgrade your subscription (i.e. decrease the number of active users and/or integrations), a refund will not be applicable. You will be billed, instead, with the new amount (usually less than the previous) on the Next charge date which should reflect the downgrade.
